

Spring has sprung, the Cards are playing right now and the Blues intend to sweep the Wild tonight! Are you wishing that you could enjoy these activities without some of your usual worries? If you're stressed about an aging loved one, home care is a viable option that genuinely keeps them safe, independent, and happy in their home. Worried they'll refuse help? Read this. Unsure about what to expect? Read this. As we work toward answering your questions at CooperativeHomeCare.com, let us know what you are wondering or worrying about. We're here to help. Go Cards! LGB!

Peace,

Mitch Waks, CEO & Owner

Employment, Volunteer, and Service Project Opportunities Abound!

NOW HIRING! OPEN POSITIONS

Our business and our teams are growing! Cooperative Home Care and Cooperative Hospice are seeking administrative and clinical employees for our home care and hospice teams. Cooperative Hospice also has ongoing volunteer positions available. Our online application is streamlined so you can apply in just a few minutes; your contact information and resume' is all you'll need to apply here.

PROJECT #28: GATEWAY 180

When a home care owner, hospice chaplain, executive assistant, social worker, and project manager get together, what do we do? Make 62 brown bag lunches, of course. Our 28th of 30 service projects we're completing for our "Serving & Celebrating in Our 30th Year" campaign was a productive morning helping Gateway 180, a terrific local organization that strives to reverse homelessness. Read all about our progress in STLtoday.

Website Why Home Care How Do I Pay Careers

SHARE THIS EMAIL

SIGN UP FOR EMAILS

